THE CHURCH HYMNAL

In my church library I have a collection of old hymnals. One is a 1938 paperback songbook The Church Hymnal. Within its pages are many familiar hymns too numerous to list. Song #203 is What A Friend (by Joseph Scriven and Charles Converse): “What a Friend we have in Jesus, all our sins and griefs to bear; What a privilege to carry Everything to God in prayer. O what peace we often forfeit, O what needless pain we bear All because we do not carry Everything to God in prayer.”

The influence of songs.
 We all instinctively know that music soothes and calms us. There is not one of us who has not used music to comfort us in distress or bereavement, or to dissipate aggressive feelings by putting on headphones and turning the volume up! Music is known to be beneficial to the health of our heart...But why does music touch us so deeply and benefit our soul and our minds as well? Psychologists are still puzzling this one out, but an answer is : it is a shortcut to the harmony of the spheres sent to us by God himself. Music is a language that needs no words, putting us in touch directly with the best of ourselves, a prayer that ascends to God along a different pathway from the incessant chattering of our brains. When God enters our minds and our hearts through music, tears may course down our cheeks as we feel the intense power of God’s love working directly on us. And singing in church with other like-minded Christians, our voices in harmony with each other, mirrors the songs of praise of the angels “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God Almighty, who was, and is, and is to come.” (Revelations 4:8)

The peace of prayer.
 One stanza of this beautiful hymn reminds the singer of the “peace we often forfeit” all because we do not carry everything to God in prayer. In our Sunday lesson on Peace we considered the gateway to peace: prayer. God’s peace is a peace that passeth understanding – born in the mind of God and given to those who love Him. This beautiful hymn turns our hearts and minds back to soul-soothing and anxiety-quietening prayer. Prayer opens the floodgates of heaven and invites the peace of Christ into our souls. “Can we find a friend so faithful who will all our sorrows share?” No, we can’t. There is no other.

Family News

Thank you

Dear Northside Family, we are so grateful to all of you for your prayers, love, cards, texts, phone calls, visits, and hugs during the hard fight with cancer of our son, brother, nephew, and husband. Richard's fight is over, but his victory is won.

Many ladies of the congregation worked tirelessly to prepare an amazing meal for the family on Friday. We will never forget your great acts of service for us.

Four extremely talented members of the congregation sang the most beautiful songs we could possibly imagine, short of the angels we will hear one day. To Clint, Winston, Kathryn, and Alicia, thank you doesn't begin to express our gratitude.

Finally, for the heartfelt words and thoughtful message, as well as for all of the many other things you have done to help our family through this most difficult time, thank you to Steve Powers.

We are overwhelmed with the care shown to us, from the Golden Years group, to each person who gave us a needed hug. Thank you for each and every act of compassion shown to us.

"And my God will meet all your needs according to the riches of his glory in Christ Jesus. To our God and Father be glory forever and ever."

We love you all,
The family of Richard Jarrett
