Christweens was this past Saturday, and as usual, it was fantastic. We had around 135 kids in attendance from 4th to 6th grade (including our 3rd graders), 35 visiting adults, and about 45 of our own teens and adults helping out in some way.

This year's theme was "Out of this World." We guided the kids through a jet-rocket tour of the Gospel of Jesus as told by John. They attended two assemblies with singing and lessons, six Bible classes, and enjoyed lunch, games, and ice cream. There was much for them to learn and experience about how special Jesus is and how special Jesus thinks they are. Jesus brought Life, Light, and Love into the world, and now Jesus can use them to be light, life, and love to all that are around us.

I'm grateful for everyone who participated in making this event come to life. Your love for kids is to be commended and you all shined like lights for our visitors. Thank you for your help, whether you were helping in person or working behind the scenes in preparation.
